OUR APPROACH

Our approach is to help incarcerated humans to navigate those unconscious cognitive, emotional, and behavioral patterns which – we know – underlie virtually everything we do.

We use the Enneagram system much like a map of ego structures and consider our teachers helpful guides who support our students in navigating their inner terrain. We do this by reflecting the light we see in people back to themselves illuminating a path they can reliably follow. We empower people to find their way back to their own innate intelligence and wisdom, to remember their best selves.

THE ENNEAGRAM

Our Approach...

The Enneagram shows us many things about ourselves. When we first introduce the system we focus on “What is right about you?”

The “Essential Qualities” are the gifts we learn from each type.

HOW WE DEVELOP PERSONALITY

The Divine Spark, temperament, and how we are nurtured, determine how we develop a personality structure. Studying the Enneagram gives us permission to loosen the habitual ways of thinking, feeling, and behaving wired into our type structures as well as conditioned by our environments.

"The personality is meant to be a transparent jewel through which the light of the Universe shines."

— A Sufi Saying...

The distorted rings of this half of the circle highlight our development when subjected to environments of unconscious, hurtful, neglectful, unattuned and abusive caregiving.

EMOTIONAL RESPONSIBILITY COMMITMENT

We are an organism that generates emotions, and we create the feelings we feel, as a result of the emotions we have generated.

Therefore, it is only WE who can take responsibility for what we feel, for what is happening to our INNER STATE at any given point in time.

- We create our own emotional reactions, and hence our feelings.
- We can learn to take responsibility for our feelings, as well as our thoughts and actions.
- Taking responsibility for our reactions and feelings means that we are accountable to ourselves for our own emotional well-being and our inner states of being.

ABOVE/BELOW THE LINE

The Above/Below the Line model relates to our responses in particular situations and whether we are consciously choosing them or acting out of emotional reactivity or unconscious habit.

ABOVE THE LINE : Acceptance & Trust
Presence / Curiosity / Growth & Learning

THE LINE OF CHOICE

THE LINE OF CHOICE

BELOW THE LINE : Resistance & Toxic Fear
Drama / Defensiveness / Scarcity

PRESENCE PRACTICE

Purpose: To develop self-awareness and the ability to reconnect with one's self intimately training the self-observer to witness the inner states that are present at any given moment.

Background: To develop self-awareness and self-understanding requires a good self-observer.

ENNEAGRAM LEVELS

The Levels of Development offer a way of observing and measuring our degree of identification with our personality structures.

It reflects the complexity of our human nature, the ever-changing states within our type, and accounts for the 'vertical' dimension of an otherwise horizontal categorical system.

Note: The 9 levels are not to be confused with the 9 types of the Enneagram.

FREEING PEOPLE — ALL OVER THE WORLD — FROM THE PRISONS OF OUR OWN MAKING

We offer a compelling, paradigm-shifting approach to in-custody programming and reentry, or “reconnection”, services.

“For many, EPP provides a forum where incarcerated people engage in self-discovery with the support and encouragement of others. A safe place surrounded by compassionate and committed people.”

To be sure and as its founder Susan Olesek acknowledged, there is nothing necessarily magical about Enneagram Prison Project. But EPP provides a nurturing foundation in which magical transformations do happen.”
